A new nut and/or saddle is required. Players with very heavy hands may consider stainless steel frets at a slight upcharge - not available in all size wire. Maple or lacquered fretboards require a ridiculous amount of additional work to be done right. We NEVER press frets into lacquer, and this requires we sand off the existing finish, re-radius the fretboard, press the frets in and then match the finish to the rest of the neck. Very few shops are set up to do this to factory specs.
